Tell a friend: Did you know that every year in Europe, 50,000 women develop and 25,000 die from a disease that is almost completely preventable? Effective organised cervical cancer prevention programmes can prevent almost every case of this disease and we need your signature to make sure all European countries have these programmes! All you need to do is to sign the petition at <link to site>. Two minutes – that is all.

Once the 'Add my name to the petition' has been clicked – a confirmation email should be sent to the person. Text: Dear FirstName LastName, Thank you very much for supporting the STOP Cervical Cancer Campaign. Yours sincerely, Dr Philip Davies, Director General, ECCA.

Effective, organised cervical cancer screening can prevent up to 80% of cervical cancers and new technologies, if properly implemented within organised programmes, have the potential to further reduce cervical cancer rates and prevent almost every case of this disease in Europe. We, the undersigned, call upon the European Parliament, the European Commission and all National Governments of Europe to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Do everything within their powers to implement effective population-based organised cervical cancer prevention programmes in accordance with the EU Guidelines on Quality Assurance in Cervical Cancer Screening 2) Support the establishment of professional public health education programmes to ensure that all women are aware of the importance of cervical cancer prevention and take full advantage of the services that are available to them. 3) Facilitate the exchange of best practice between Member States so that all European citizens can benefit from the world-class expertise that exists within the European Union. 4) Support independent population-based research to establish the most appropriate means for implementing new technologies and ensuring the most effective reductions in cervical cancer across the European Union. 5) Recognise and support the essential role played by charities, non-governmental organisations and volunteers in the ongoing reduction of cervical cancer in Europe. Download the Manifesto >> (link to pdf)	ECCA Logo This petition is being run by the European Cervical Cancer Association.
